

Children's Programing

High Holidays 2026/5787

Nurturing the Next Generation through Judaism.

Congregation Or VeShalom is happy to announce our High Holiday Children's Programing, weaving together fun and meaningful Jewish engagement. Tailored to specific age groups, each program gives kids the chance to celebrate the holidays with fun-filled activities and to learn important themes about this holiday season.

All attendance for Children's Programing must be reserved in advance. Programing will include youth services, which provide a foundation for future participation in synagogue life. Services will be available on Rosh Hashana Days 1 and 2 and on Yom Kippur morning, with service length based on the age of each group. Our service leaders will meet the children in their classrooms. We also have fun, hands-on holiday activities, snacks and time for free play planned.

To provide the appropriate ratios for safe, quality care, and the positive experience we all want for our children, advanced registration is required. This is a safety issue to ensure we have appropriate staffing. Please contact the OVS office with any questions. Completed forms must be received by OVS by Monday, August 31, 2026.

For infants and toddlers, please bring diapers and a favorite toy. Children will be placed in classrooms according to age. Parents will drop off and pick up their children from the registration area in the preschool lobby. Only infant parents will be allowed in the room during services. When parents come into the classrooms, it disrupts the routines of all the children. Please feel free to peek through the windows at any time. No food is to be brought into the rooms. We will be providing snacks, including appropriate snacks for children with known allergies listed on the Children's Programing Form.

Entrance into the synagogue, including for children's programing, will be through the main entrance only. For security reasons, all other doors will be locked from the outside. A member or guest ticket will be required for entry.

Thank you,
OVS High Holiday Team
